FINAL MESSAGE 37

THE BATTLE OF CONFUSION

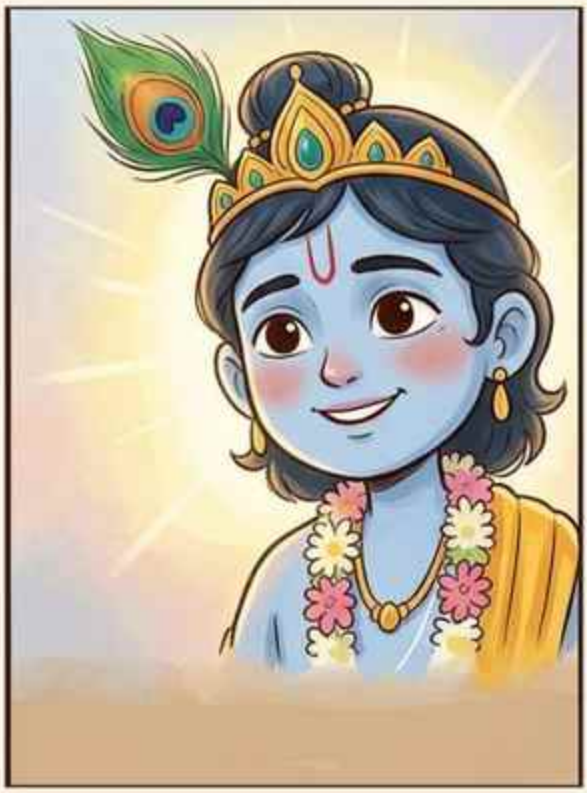

Arjuna: "Krishna, take my chariot between the two armies. I want to see who stands against us."

Arjuna: "They are my own people! How can I fight against them?"

Arjuna: "My hands are trembling. My mind is confused. I cannot fight!"

Krishna: "Arjuna, even a brave person can experience confusion. But you must not allow fear to control your decisions."

A STUDENT'S BIG DECISION

Student: "Should I choose software development, business or higher studies? I don't know what to do!"

Friend: "You are thinking about too many possibilities. First understand your interests and strengths."

Student: "I think I should understand my options before making a decision."

Just like Arjuna, we all face confusing situations. Asking for guidance helps us find direction.

LIFE LESSON: Never make important decisions out of fear. Stay calm, seek guidance and understand your situation.

THE SECRET OF THE SOUL

Arjuna: "How can I accept losing the people I love?"

Krishna: "The body changes with time, but the soul is eternal."

Krishna: "Just as we change old clothes for new ones, the soul leaves one body and takes another."

Arjuna: "So my true identity is more than my physical body?"
Krishna: "Yes. Understand the eternal nature of the soul."

BEYOND PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

Student: "I don't look like the other students. I feel insecure about my appearance."

Friend: "Your appearance doesn't decide your worth. Your character, kindness and abilities matter."

Student: "I should focus on becoming a better person instead of comparing myself with others."

Krishna teaches us to look beyond temporary physical identity and understand our deeper worth.

LIFE LESSON: Your value is not defined by your appearance, age or possessions. Build your character and recognize your inner worth.

THE MEANING OF KARMA

Arjuna: "Why should I work so hard if I cannot control the results?"

Krishna: "You have the right to perform your duty, but not to control its fruits."

Arjuna: "Does that mean I should stop worrying about winning or losing?"

Krishna: "Focus on your actions. Perform your duties sincerely without becoming attached to success or failure."

THE STUDENT AND THE EXAMINATION

Student: "I am scared. What if I study hard but still get low marks?"

Friend: "Instead of worrying about marks, concentrate on understanding your subjects."

Student: "I will give my best effort and stop stressing about things I cannot control."

Just like Krishna taught Arjuna, focus on your effort rather than the outcome.

LIFE LESSON: Give your best in everything. Your effort is in your hands, even when the result is not.

THE POWER OF KNOWLEDGE

Arjuna: "You speak of ancient wisdom. How has this knowledge existed for so long?"

Krishna: "This eternal wisdom has been passed through generations to guide humanity."

Krishna: "Whenever righteousness declines and injustice rises, I manifest to protect goodness and restore balance."

Arjuna: "So knowledge helps us understand what is right and wrong?"
Krishna: "Exactly. True knowledge guides action."

THE STUDENT WHO SOLVED A PROBLEM

Student: "This is happening every day. We should find a solution."

Student: "Before taking action, I need to understand the problem."

Friend: "Your knowledge has helped us find a practical solution!"

Knowledge becomes powerful when we use it to create positive change.

LIFE LESSON: Never stop learning. Use your knowledge to make wise decisions and help society.

WHAT IS TRUE RENUNCIATION?

Arjuna: "Should I leave all my responsibilities to find peace?"

Krishna: "Leaving responsibilities does not automatically bring peace."

Krishna: "A person who performs duties without selfish attachment can achieve inner freedom."

Arjuna: "So I can continue my duties and still find peace?"
Krishna: "Yes. The secret is in your attitude."

THE RESPONSIBLE FAMILY MEMBER

Student: "I have so much work. I wish I could escape all these responsibilities!"

Mother: "Responsibilities are part of life. Learn to manage them calmly."

Student: "I can do my work without constantly complaining."

Peace does not come from escaping responsibilities. It comes from accepting and managing them wisely.

LIFE LESSON: Fulfil your responsibilities with a peaceful mind. Let go of selfish expectations.

THE RESTLESS MIND

Arjuna: "Krishna, my mind is restless and difficult to control."

Krishna: "The mind is difficult to control, but it can be trained through practice and detachment."

Krishna: "Sit peacefully, control your thoughts and bring your attention within."

Arjuna: "Will regular practice really help?"
Krishna: "Yes. Patience and discipline are the keys."

THE DISTRACTED STUDENT

Student: "I will study for five minutes... just one more video!"

Student: "Oh no! I wasted so much time scrolling."

Student: "I will focus for 30 minutes and take a short break afterward."

Training your mind takes practice, just like building any other skill.

LIFE LESSON: Control distractions, practise patience and develop a disciplined mind.

THE DIVINE IN NATURE

Arjuna: "Krishna, how can I understand your true nature?"

Krishna: "I am the radiance of the sun and the moon."

Krishna: "I am the essence of water and the life within all beings."

Arjuna: "Your presence is reflected throughout creation!"

THE STUDENT WHO SAVED A TREE

Student: "Why are they cutting this beautiful tree? It gives us shade and fresh air!"

Student: "Trees are important for birds, animals and our environment. Can we find another solution?"

Friend: "We are making our campus greener!"

Respecting nature is one way of respecting the beauty of creation.

LIFE LESSON: Respect nature and protect every form of life. Recognize the value of the world around you.

THE ETERNAL TRUTH

Arjuna: "What is the eternal reality, and what happens beyond physical life?"

Krishna: "The physical world changes, but the eternal reality remains beyond change."

Krishna: "The thoughts and consciousness we cultivate throughout life are deeply important."

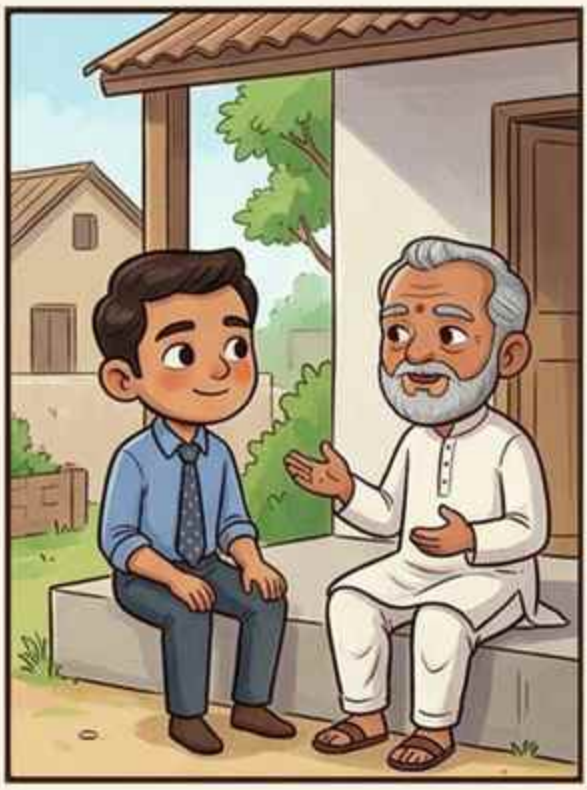

Arjuna: "So I should live with awareness every day?"
Krishna: "Yes. Remember the Divine throughout your life."

THE PERSON WHO FOUND PURPOSE

Person: "I am earning more, but why do I still feel that something is missing?"

Mentor: "Success is important, but life also needs purpose, kindness and gratitude."

Person: "Helping others makes my life more meaningful."

A meaningful life is built through positive thoughts and purposeful actions.

LIFE LESSON: Do not spend your entire life chasing temporary achievements. Live with purpose and gratitude.

THE POWER OF TRUE DEVOTION

Krishna: "I will share the most precious knowledge: the path of sincere devotion."

Arjuna: "Does devotion require wealth or grand offerings?"

Krishna: "A leaf, a flower, a fruit or water offered with love is enough."

Arjuna: "So true devotion comes from the heart!"

THE SMALL GIFT WITH GREAT LOVE

Child: "I cannot afford an expensive present for my friend's birthday."

Child: "I can make something with my own hands."

Friend: "You made this for me? It is beautiful! Thank you!"

The value of a gift comes from the love and thought behind it, not its price.

LIFE LESSON: Sincerity, love and gratitude matter more than material wealth.

KRISHNA'S DIVINE GLORY

Arjuna: "How can I recognize your greatness in this vast universe?"

Krishna: "Among lights, I am the radiant sun. Among mountains, I am the mighty Himalayas."

Krishna: "Wherever you see extraordinary beauty, strength and wisdom, remember the Divine."

Arjuna: "Now I understand how greatness is reflected in creation."

THE TALENTED TEAMMATE

Student: "I wish I had that much talent!"

Teacher: "Instead of feeling jealous, appreciate their dedication and learn from them."

Student: "Your performance was amazing. Can you teach me how you practise?"

Recognizing greatness in others can inspire us to grow.

LIFE LESSON: Replace jealousy with appreciation. Let the goodness and talents of others inspire you.

THE COSMIC VISION

Arjuna: "Krishna, may I see your universal form?"

Krishna: "You cannot see my true cosmic form with ordinary eyes. I grant you divine sight."

Arjuna: "What magnificent power! I see countless worlds within you!"

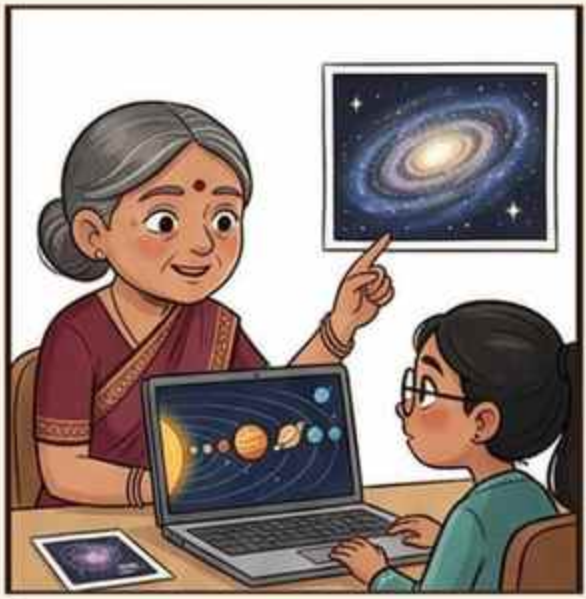

Arjuna: "Your form is beyond anything I have ever imagined!"

THE STUDENT WHO DISCOVERED THE UNIVERSE

Student: "I thought the stars were just tiny lights!"

Teacher: "Each tiny point of light may be part of an enormous universe."

Student: "There are so many galaxies and worlds beyond our imagination!"

The more we learn, the more we understand how much we still have to discover.

LIFE LESSON: Stay humble and curious. There is always something greater to learn and explore.

THE TRUE DEVOTEE

Arjuna: "Who is your true devotee?"

Krishna: "One who has faith, love and devotion is deeply connected to me."

Krishna: "A true devotee is kind, humble, forgiving and free from hatred."

Arjuna: "So devotion is also reflected in how we treat others?"
Krishna: "Exactly."

THE KINDNESS OF A STUDENT

Student: "Please wait. I will help you cross safely."

Elderly person: "Thank you, child. You are very kind."

Student: "Please don't make fun of others. Everyone deserves respect."

Kindness and compassion are expressions of true devotion.

LIFE LESSON: Show your devotion through your behaviour. Be kind, forgive others and help those in need.

THE FIELD AND THE KNOWER

Arjuna: "What is the difference between the body and the soul?"

Krishna: "The body is like a field, and the one who knows and experiences it is the knower of the field."

Krishna: "The body changes, but the conscious self experiences those changes."

Arjuna: "So true knowledge begins with understanding myself?"

Krishna: "Yes. Self-awareness is an important part of wisdom."

THE STUDENT WHO UNDERSTOOD THEIR EMOTIONS

Student: "I lost! I am terrible at everything!"

Student: "I am feeling disappointed, but that feeling does not define who I am."

Friend: "Understand what went wrong and use it as an opportunity to improve."

Student: "I can learn from this experience and become better."

Understanding your thoughts and emotions helps you respond wisely.

LIFE LESSON: Do not let temporary emotions define your identity. Practise self-awareness and keep improving.

SATTVA, RAJAS AND TAMAS

Arjuna: "What influences the behaviour and actions of people?"

Krishna: "Three qualities influence human nature: Sattva, Rajas and Tamas."

Krishna: "Sattva brings clarity and goodness. Rajas brings desire and restless activity. Tamas brings laziness and ignorance."

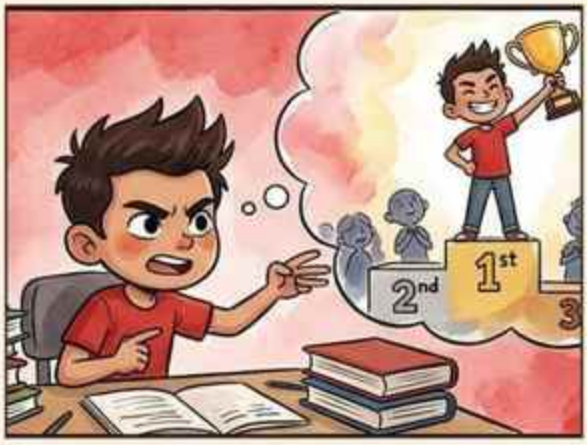

Arjuna: "How can I rise above these qualities?"

Krishna: "Develop awareness, wisdom and inner balance."

THREE STUDENTS, THREE ATTITUDES

Student A: "I want to learn and improve myself."
Sattva – clarity and discipline.

Student B: "I must be better than everyone!"
Rajas – ambition and attachment to results.

Student C: "Why should I work? I will do it tomorrow."
Tamas – laziness and ignorance.

Teacher: "Develop knowledge, balance your ambitions and overcome laziness."
Your habits and attitudes shape your behaviour.

LIFE LESSON: Choose clarity over confusion, discipline over laziness and balanced ambition over uncontrolled desire.

THE TREE OF LIFE

Arjuna: "Krishna, what is this unusual tree?"

Krishna: "This Ashvattha tree represents the material world, with its roots above and branches spreading below."

Arjuna: "How can one become free from attachment to this world?"

Krishna: "Through wisdom and detachment, one can move beyond temporary attachments and understand the Supreme."

THE STUDENT AND THE EXPENSIVE PHONE

Student: "Everyone has the latest phone. I feel embarrassed using mine."

Sibling: "A phone is only a tool. It doesn't decide your intelligence or worth."

Student: "I should spend my time developing skills instead of comparing possessions."

Material things may make life comfortable, but they do not define your true value.

LIFE LESSON: Use material possessions wisely. Never allow them to control your happiness or identity.

TWO PATHS IN LIFE

Arjuna: "What makes a person truly noble?"

Krishna: "Fearlessness, honesty, compassion, self-control and forgiveness are divine qualities."

Krishna: "Arrogance, anger, greed and cruelty lead towards destructive behaviour."

Arjuna: "So our qualities determine the kind of person we become?"
Krishna: "Yes. Choose the path of goodness."

THE EXAMINATION HALL

Student: "If I cheat too, maybe I can get higher marks."

Student: "But cheating is dishonest. I should trust what I have learned."

Student: "I would rather earn my marks honestly."

Friend: "You did the right thing, even when it was difficult."

True character is revealed by the choices we make.

LIFE LESSON: Choose honesty over cheating, kindness over cruelty and humility over arrogance.

UNDERSTANDING FAITH

Arjuna: "Does everyone have the same kind of faith?"

Krishna: "Faith is influenced by the three Gunas: Sattva, Rajas and Tamas."

Krishna: "Sattvic faith is guided by purity and understanding. Rajasic faith seeks recognition and rewards. Tamasic faith is guided by ignorance."

Arjuna: "How can I develop pure faith?"
Krishna: "Keep your intentions sincere and your actions meaningful."

THE THREE VOLUNTEERS

Student A: "I want to help because people need support."

Sattvic intention – helping with sincerity.

Student B: "I hope everyone praises me for this!"

Rajasic intention – seeking recognition.

Student C: "I don't care. I just want to finish quickly."

Tamasic attitude – carelessness and lack of understanding.

Coordinator: "Helping is good, but your intention and the way you act also matter."

The quality of your actions depends greatly on the attitude behind them.

LIFE LESSON: Do good things with sincere intentions, not merely to receive praise or rewards.

KRISHNA'S FINAL TEACHING

Krishna: "Arjuna, I have taught you about wisdom, action, devotion and the eternal soul."

Krishna: "Perform your duties sincerely. Let go of ego and selfish attachment."

Krishna: "Surrender your worries to the Divine and follow the path of righteousness."

Arjuna: "My confusion is disappearing. I understand what I must do."

THE FINAL DECISION

Student: "I failed. Maybe I am not capable of achieving my dreams."

Mentor: "Failure is not the end. Learn from your mistakes, work sincerely and keep moving forward."

Student: "I cannot change the past, but I can improve my future through my actions."

Thousands of years ago, Krishna guided Arjuna. Today, his wisdom continues to guide us. The real battle is within ourselves.

LIFE LESSON: Face life's challenges with courage. Perform your duties, trust your efforts and never stop learning.

FINAL MESSAGE

"Whenever life feels like a battlefield, remember the teachings of the Bhagavad Gita. The greatest victory is not winning against others, but finding wisdom, courage and peace within yourself."

THE END

18 Lessons, One Journey of Wisdom

THE BHAGAVAD GITA

18 Life-Changing Lessons Through Comics

Thousands of years ago, on the battlefield of Kurukshetra, Lord Krishna guided a confused Arjuna with timeless wisdom.

In this comic book, every lesson of the Gita comes alive twice: first with Krishna and Arjuna, then through a modern student facing exams, phones, friendships and big decisions.

Focus on your actions · Master your mind · Choose honesty
Respect nature · Be kind · Never stop learning

THE REAL BATTLE IS WITHIN OURSELVES.
